“Ajman Finance” activates the receipt of invoices electronically through the advanced procurement system

Published: 20 Jul 2022

The Department of Finance in Ajman has announced the activation of electronic receipt of invoices within the advanced procurement system, as part of its continuous endeavor to develop its services in...

The Department of Finance in Ajman has announced the activation of electronic receipt of invoices within the advanced procurement system, as part of its continuous endeavor to develop its services in accordance with the highest standards of smart transformation. His Excellency Marwan Al Ali, Director General of the Department, said that activating the feature of receiving the invoice electronically is a qualitative addition to the Department within the advanced procurement system, and this step came in line with the vision of the wise leadership and its directives to achieve the convenience and happiness of customers, and to raise government work to the highest levels by developing the services provided to The audience. For his part, Abdul Ghaffar Al Khaja, Director of Government Accounts Department, explained that automating invoices for customers in the Ajman government, including suppliers, consultants and contractors, is an effective way to facilitate, document and implement contractual procedures and electronic payment in a faster way to achieve the desired results and keep pace with the rapid development witnessed by the emirate, which would The aspirations of our wise leadership are translated in achieving the happiness of customers and the vision of Ajman 2021. He pointed out that within the framework of the keenness to adopt innovative, effective and available digital services around the clock, the Department of Finance provided the customers who benefit from the suppliers’ registry its services through the department’s website and smart application, where the customer can submit invoices. Without the need to come to the headquarters of government departments.